

Public Relations & Media @HHS

Every day at Hamilton Health Sciences, we explore the possibility to make life better for people in our community and around the world. We are a diverse group of doctors, nurses, academic and health professionals who share this common goal, and our patients are at the heart of every exploration we make.

Follow us and be part of our journey of discovery... We Are Explorers

HHS investigators are encouraged to share news worthy stories about their research activities!
